From the Diocese of Fall River

Children can benefit greatly from being on-line for learning and fun, but they can also be targets of exploitation in this, as in any other environment. Predators may use email, chat rooms, and social networking sites as a way to contact children and send them sexual solicitations or to share sexual materials. If you would like to learn about ways of keeping your child safe from Internet abuse, please call Debora Jones at (508) 674-4681.

End of Life Issues

Euthanasia (an action or an omission which causes or intends to cause death) and physician-assisted suicide (an action in which a physician administers drugs to cause death) are sometimes viewed as acts of mercy that alleviate suffering. However, the Church calls us to respect human life by caring, not killing. Permitting natural death means that a person's life is allowed to take its natural course. The Church teaches that the "use of painkillers can be morally in conformity with human dignity if death is not willed as either an end or a means, but tolerated as inevitable". (CCC, 2279) The pain that may accompany terminal illness can almost always be minimized or totally eliminated.

I have set before you life and death, blessings and curses. Now choose life, so that you and your children may live.
Deut. 30:19.
